DETAILED ACTION

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1,2,4 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Lane et al, (5,648,923).

As per claims 1 and 2, Lane et al. discloses in figure 4, a finite impulse response filter, a part of which, as illustrated below, can be seen as the claimed filter cell including a multiplexer (408), a multiplier (402), a summer (410), and two slave sample and hold circuits (404,406) as claimed.

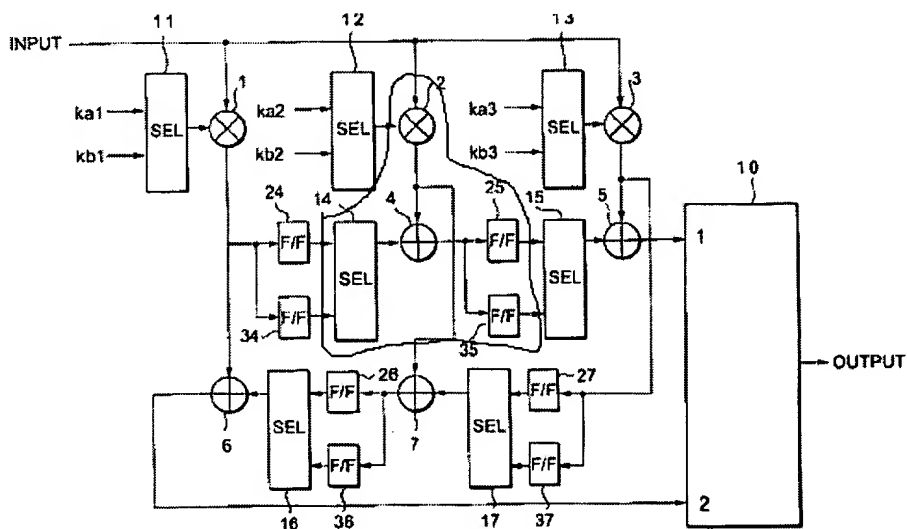

Art Unit: 2124

As per claims 4 and 5, Lane et al. discloses in figure 4, a finite impulse response filter, a part of which (403), can be seen as the claimed filter cell including a multiplier (402), a summer (410), two slave sample and hold circuits (404,406), and a multiplexer (408) as claimed.

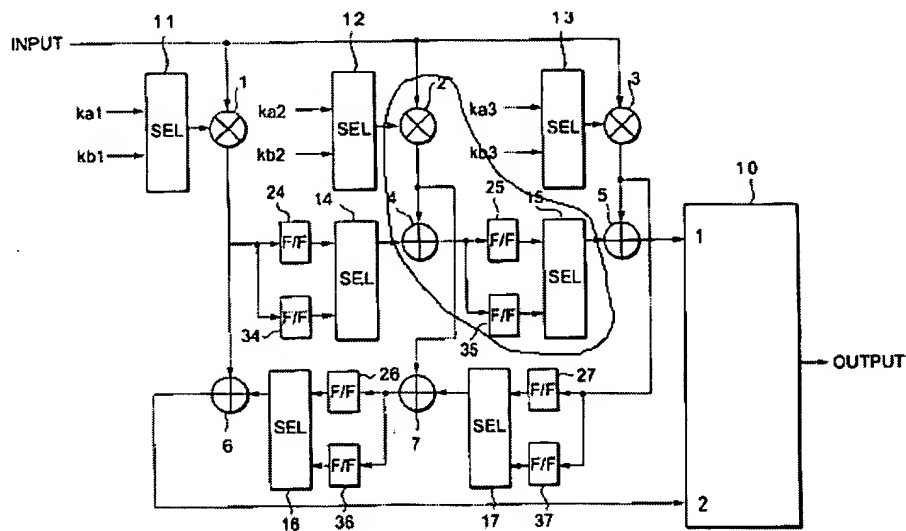

3. Claims 1,2,4 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Matsuura (6,625,628).

As per claims 1 and 2, Matsuura discloses in figure 1, a finite impulse response filter, a part of which, as illustrated below, can be seen as the claimed filter cell including a multiplexer (14), a multiplier (2), a summer (4), and two slave sample and hold circuits (25,35) as claimed.

Art Unit: 2124

As per claims 4, Matsuura discloses in figure 1, a finite impulse response filter, a part of which, as illustrated below, can be seen as the claimed filter cell including a multiplier (2), a summer (4), two slave sample and hold circuits (25,35), and a multiplexer (15) as claimed.

4. Claims 3 and 6 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

5. Claims 7-14 are allowed.

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
